Clinch-Powell Educational Cooperative Head Start/Early Head Start Program

CPEC HS/EHS History of Services.....

In 1972, Clinch-Powell Educational Cooperative began as a Home Start program and, along with 15 other Home Start Demonstration Projects across the country, proved that Head Start Services could be successfully implemented into a home-based setting. Since then, CPEC has experienced many expansions, to include the addition of the center-based option in 1995 and Early Head Start in 2000. Through the years, service delivery has transformed to meet the changing needs of the community. This 2016-2017 Annual Report highlights the quality services provided by the CPEC Head Start/Early Head Start Program.

School Readiness

Framework and Tennessee Early Learning Developmental Standards. These guidelines ensure that all areas of development are included and reflected in daily lesson planning.

Teacher Educational Attainment

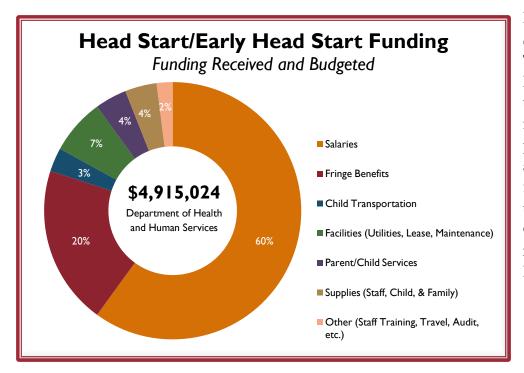

Teachers assess child progress using Teaching Strategies Gold, which is paired with the Creative Curriculum, the Program's premier evidencebased curriculum. Classrooms are monitored multiple times each year to ensure the provision of quality services. Further, all centers hold the highest quality rating at 3stars; and, the CDC location, which serves both Head Start and Early Head Start families, is NAEYC accredited.

School Readiness goals align with the Head Start Early Learning Outcomes

Accountability and Review

The Agency consistently receives fully compliant reports from auditors for accounting practices and internal controls and was given a "no findings" report for the most recent annual audit conducted in July 2017.

Family Engagement

A total of 1,011 individuals supported the Program through 39,744 volunteer hours. A total of 298 fathers participated in fatherhood/male role model activities during the program year. Typical parent engagement activities include monthly parent meetings that include parent education opportunities with community speakers; specific training on mental health, adult education, and domestic violence; weekly socialization sessions for Home-based families; semiannual parent breakfast; Kindergarten transition activities; car seat safety checks; "Spotlight the Child" events; "Make and Take" days; annual Fatherhood essay contest; and of course, many opportunities to volunteer in the classroom.

The Head Start Parent, Family, and Community Engagement Framework guides staff to work closely with families to establish goals that will enhance family well-being, parent-child relationships, families as lifelong learners, family engagement in transitions, family connections to peers and community, and families as advocates and leaders – all in an effort to promote children's school readiness.

In March 2014, the Office of Head Start conducted a scheduled Triennial monitoring review. The Federal review team congratulated the staff, parents, and Board members on the Agency's practices, procedures, and successes and issued a final report with "no findings". The program is entering the 3rd year of the new "Five Year Grant" cycle and is scheduled to receive a Federal Monitoring Review for Fiscal Year 2017-2018.

Agreement, we set goals and have made progress on those goals. We also have attended all parent meetings and have benefitted from the parenting curriculum. I have learned a lot about my child's development as a result of volunteering in the classroom. Ms.
